

CURRY MALLET Church of England VC PRIMARY SCHOOL

Sex and Relationship Education Policy

This policy should be taken as part of the overall strategy of the School and implemented within the context of our vision, aims and values as a Church of England School.

Introduction

This policy takes account of the 'Sex and Relationship Education Guidance' published by the DfEE in July 2000 that updated Circular 5/94 'Sex Education in Schools'. The policy is based on a framework produced by a countywide multi-disciplinary group. A statement on Sex and Relationship Education is also to be found in the School Prospectus.

Rationale

At Curry Mallet School, we believe that effective Sex and Relationships Education (SRE) is essential if our pupils, as they grow, are to make responsible and well informed decisions about their lives. It is about respect, love and care and the benefits of making and maintaining a stable marriage or relationship. It contributes to promoting the spiritual, moral, social, cultural, emotional, mental and physical development of our pupils, preparing them for the opportunities, responsibilities and experiences of adult life.

We believe SRE should not be delivered in isolation, but be firmly rooted in our Personal, Social and Health Education and Citizenship programme, supplemented by Science and other subjects of our taught curriculum. We recognise that to be human is to experience sexual feelings, seek connections with other people and develop relationships, which may be physical or non-physical. Our teaching of SRE is applicable to all sexual orientations and will include teaching of sex, sexuality and sexual health.

SRE seeks to enable young people to feel positive about themselves, manage relationships and access the infrastructure of support available.

Aims and Objectives

At Curry Mallet School, we aim to provide our pupils with an age appropriate SRE programme that is tailored to their physical and emotional maturity. In doing this, we acknowledge the value of contributing to a spiral curriculum which should enable them to make positive choices about their sexual and emotional health, both now and in the future. We seek to achieve this aim by having three main elements to our programme:

- attitudes and values
  - learning to care about other people and being sensitive towards their needs and views
  - learning the importance of values, and individual conscience and moral considerations
  - accepting the differences between people and learning not to exploit them
  - learning the value of family life, marriage, and the importance of stable, loving and caring relationships for the nurture of children

- learning the importance and responsibilities of the family unit for all its members
- learning to respect oneself and others and being honest, loyal and trustworthy in relationships
- learning to take responsibility for one's actions in all situations
- exploring, considering and understanding moral dilemmas; and developing critical thinking as part of decision-making
- personal and social skills
  - learning to manage emotions and relationships confidently and sensitively
  - developing self-respect and empathy for others
  - learning to make choices based on an understanding of difference and with an absence of prejudice
  - learning how to make well informed and responsible decisions about their lives and developing an appreciation of the consequences of the choices made
  - managing conflict
  - learning how to recognise and avoid exploitation and abuse
- knowledge and understanding
  - learning and understanding physical development at appropriate stages
  - understanding human sexuality, reproduction, sexual health, emotions and relationships
  - learning about contraception and the range of local and national sexual health advice, contraception and support services
  - learning the reasons for delaying sexual activity and the benefits to be gained from such delay
  - the avoidance of unplanned pregnancy

We believe that SRE will be achieved by providing an environment and atmosphere where pupils feel safe, relaxed, not intimidated, but focussed; and where they have confidence and trust in the knowledge, ability and skills of their teachers.

Moral Framework

Pupils will be taught SRE within a framework which models and encourages the following values:

- Being honest with themselves and others
- Developing a critical awareness of themselves and others
- Learning to show tolerance, understanding, respect and care for others
- Acknowledging the rights, duties and responsibilities involved in sexual relationships
- Developing an awareness and belief in one's own identity
- Having a positive attitude towards the value of stable relationships for the upbringing of children
- Acknowledging and understanding diversity with regard to religion, culture and sexual orientation
- Having self-discipline regarding their sexuality.

Working with Parents

The school is committed to working in close partnership with parents and carers who are the key people in teaching their children about sex and relationships. Parents/carers are invited to attend consultation evenings to discuss the school's SRE programme and to view the teaching materials and resources that will be used.

A parent or carer, who is concerned about any element of this policy, or is unhappy about their child's participation, should discuss their feelings with the Headteacher. Parents have the right to withdraw their children from all or part of those aspects of the SRE programme which are NOT part of the statutory National Curriculum Science Orders. If requested, alternative arrangements will be made for individual pupils, but it is hoped that this will not be necessary. If so, parents should consult with the Headteacher to discuss appropriate arrangements.

Content and Organisation

The organisation of SRE is no different from other curriculum areas. It is delivered through planned programmes within Science, RE and PSHE. Occasionally, issues about SRE may arise spontaneously in other lessons (eg while studying English Literature) where it is not the main focus of the lesson. This is not considered to be part of the planned SRE programme and parents or carers cannot withdraw pupils in these circumstances.

Provision may be made for pupils in mixed age classes to be taught in separate age groups. Normally, male and female pupils will be taught together. However, when deemed appropriate, there may be occasions when pupils are taught in gender groups.

The intention is for all our pupils to achieve the age-related learning outcomes recommended by OFSTED in their report entitled 'Sex and Relationships' published in 2002. (See Appendix for further information)

Where visitors are invited to deliver aspects of the SRE programme, the school follows the guidance in 'School use of visitors and outside agencies in health promotion' published by the Somerset Healthy Schools Team, 2001. Visitors will be used to support not supplant, the role of the teacher and they will always be accompanied in the lesson by a teacher. Visitors will always be fully briefed on their contribution to the programme and will be given a copy of the current policy beforehand.

Aspects of SRE are encompassed within the ethos of the school and may be delivered through:

- PSHE lessons
- Core and foundation subjects
- Circle time
- Literacy/numeracy lessons
- Health weeks
- Collapsed timetable days
- Theatre in Education visits
- Project/theme lessons

The SRE programme will be delivered by Class teachers or the School Nurse. A range of teaching approaches will be used which include didactic and participatory methods eg small group work for discussion, etc.

The overview and co-ordination of the taught curriculum is the responsibility of the Headteacher. Continuous professional development and training will always be provided to ensure a high level of expertise for teachers involved in delivering the SRE programme in the school.

Equal Opportunities

RE is inclusive of all students; they have an equal entitlement to good quality SRE. The programme will be delivered in line with the school's Equal Opportunities policy within an atmosphere of mutual respect, ensuring that no individual will be discriminated against on grounds of gender, race, disability, religion or sexual orientation.

If a pupil is absent from school (eg through illness) and does not participate in the SRE programme, the school will ensure that teaching materials are made available. Resources selected to support the programme will be free from cultural bias wherever possible and will avoid gender, race, disability or sexual orientation stereotyping. The programme will be sensitive to the needs of all pupils in the school.

The Sexual Offences Act 2003

The Sexual Offences Act 2003 became law in May 2004. The Act outlines the law with regard to non-consensual offences including, rape, assault by penetration, sexual assault and causing a person to engage in sexual activity without consent.

Specific detail is given regarding child sexual offences (under the age of 16) and rape and other offences against children under 13.

It is clear that those who act with the purpose of protecting a young person from pregnancy, STIs, protecting their physical safety or promoting their emotional well-being, will not be guilty of arranging or facilitating a child sex offence. This applies not just to health professionals but to anyone acting in the best interests of the young person, such as teachers, youth workers, Connexions PAs, social care professionals and parents. Young people under 16, including under 13s, can continue to seek contraceptive and sexual health advice or treatment in confidence.

The aim of the Act is to protect young people from abuse or exploitation. It is not intended to prosecute mutually agreed sexual activity between young people of a similar age where there is no evidence of exploitation.

The statement below has been agreed by the Home Office to explain the Act to young people:

"In England and Wales, the law on Sexual Offences has been updated. Under this law, the legal age for young people to consent to have sex is still 16, whether you are straight, gay or bisexual.

The aim of the law is to protect the safety and rights of young people and make it easier to prosecute people who pressure or force others into having sex they don't want. Forcing someone to have sex is a crime.

Although the age of consent remains at 16, it is not intended that the law should be used to prosecute mutually agreed teenage sexual activity between two young people of a similar age, unless it involves abuse or exploitation.

Under the Sexual Offences Act you still have the right to confidential advice on contraception, condoms, pregnancy and abortion, even if you are under 16. But remember, whatever your age, you shouldn't have sex until you feel ready."

The Act also outlines the law relating to the abuse of children by those in a position of trust. It is an offence for a person aged 18 or over intentionally to behave in certain sexual ways in relation to a child aged under 18, where the adult is in a position of trust in respect of the child. This applies to any person over the age of 18 working with a position of trust in an educational establishment. The offence covers all children under 18, however it is principally designed to protect young people aged 16 and 17 who, even though they are over the age of consent for sexual activity, are considered to be vulnerable to sexual abuse and exploitation from particular classes of persons who hold a position of trust or authority in relation to them.

Specific Issues

The personal beliefs and attitudes of teachers will not influence their teaching of SRE.

All staff teaching SRE will set ground rules in their classes. Students will be involved in the negotiation/setting of these rules. Distancing techniques will also help to avoid the inappropriate disclosure of information. These may include case studies, role play and speaking in the third person. If a question is too explicit or is inappropriate, the teacher will attend to it later, on an individual basis and a decision will be taken whether or not to inform the child's parents/carers.

If a child makes a disclosure that causes the teacher concern, then they will follow child protection procedures established within the county.

Boys and girls need to be prepared for puberty before they reach this developmental stage. At Curry Mallet School, we teach about puberty and the need for extra care with personal hygiene. This is done mainly in whole class groups but opportunities are provided for single gender lessons.

Our programme will include preparation for menstruation. Basic information about the process of menstruation will be given to both boys and girls. We will make appropriate and sensitive arrangements for the changing and disposal of sanitary wear for our pupils. Pupils will be given basic, appropriate information about condoms and the contraceptive pill.

The diversity of sexual orientation found within society may also be reflected in the school community. Students will need to be given information regarding access to relevant support agencies. The school will seek to ensure that SRE is relevant and positive for all students, and that teaching about sexuality is undertaken by teachers who are trained and comfortable with such issues.

It would be insensitive if gay, lesbian, bisexual and transgender issues were only addressed in limited or negative contexts or prejudice (eg teaching about HIV/AIDS). The school will therefore seek to take account of different sexual orientations throughout SRE.

Homophobic bullying (ie based on perceived gay or lesbian sexuality) is totally unacceptable. The school has a specific Behaviour/Anti bullying Policy. All teachers are aware of this policy and a copy is available on request.

Monitoring and Evaluation

The SRE policy is monitored and evaluated through an annual review process involving pupils, parents, teachers and the Governing Body.
